Salvin's Albatross Thalassarche salvini (Rothschild 1893), Native
1893 New Zealand

This species was not described until 1893. Rothschild (1893) gave no details of the holotype's origin. The first recorded specimen was found in 1876 at Blueskin Bay, Otago by Hutton. Recently discovered breeding on Penguin Island (Crozet Is), so not strictly an endemic anymore.
